CEU TRANSFORM THE FUTURE

At CEU Cardenal Herrera University we want to change the world. And in order to do it, we believe in the two more powerful tools within our reach: education and research.

But we know that we cannot do it alone. For this reason, we want to explore new ways of collaboration with international institutions that share our same values and ideas, and want to join our branding in the world.

Let's look for solutions with a global impact. Together we can do great things.

What if we transform the future together?

Personality

We belong to one of the benchmark private foundations in Spain and that defines us as university. While our Catholic ideology defines us as people.

Values

We translate the values of Christian humanism into everything we do and say. We like people committed to the values that we consider ours: justice, solidarity and vocation of service. These are the values present in each one of our initiatives.

Education

We believe in an innovative and international teaching model. And this is what makes us pioneers in terms of substance but we are also pioneers in the form with digital skills, cross-border agreements, collaborative learning, and open education.

Be first so that you can train the ones who will be first - this is how we understand education.
